

June 9, 2009

To Whom It May Concern:

On June 3rd, Someone again tried to break into Nova Oil in Seattle by breaking a window. The stations security system activated, allowing the person on duty at Sonitrol Pacific to hear what was happening and call police. When the police arrived on scene the suspect had fled having never gained entry, but left behind some hopeful fingerprints.

I wanted to take the time to express how thankful I am for Sonitrol Pacific. We have been plagued by what we think is the same person trying to break in over and over again for the past few years. Try as he might he has been unable to foil the Sonitrol Pacific team. Every time there has been an attempted break in Sonitrol Pacific has received an alarm and dispatched promptly.

Someone from Sonitrol Pacific comes out to meet with me regularly to make sure our security is up-to-date and working correctly. Their attention to detail let's me focus on other things. I know I can trust my Sonitrol Pacific security consultant to offer creative suggestions and solutions for my security needs. I know I can trust Sonitrol Pacific to protect my facility and I highly recommend them to any business owner.

Thank You,

Paul Johnson
Manager, Nova Oil
206-722-4995